

PERMISSION TO REPRINT

Thank you for your request to reprint one or more articles.

Permission for use of any article is limited to only your publication. Website use is limited to club and professional magazines when the entire magazine is also posted on the magazine's website.

The conditions are:

We do not grant permission to post articles to websites except as provided above. Reproduction of these copyrighted articles is only for personal use. Websites except as noted are not authorized to use them. If your interest is for a personal website (not a club or regular magazine) we suggest that you link to our site and recommend to your readers that they visit our site for the article. You may summarize the article and suggest the reader visit our site for the full text.

Permission to reprint is granted by honoring these conditions:

1. Print it entirely with credits and copyright. Specifically the author is Dr. Battaglia and permission is also granted by the Canine Chronicle.
2. Use the regular postal service and send two copies of your publication to the address below. Copies are kept by Dr. Battaglia and we keep one as well for our files.

Send to: Dr. Battaglia 335 Wexford Glen Roswell, GA 30075

3. Feedback from your readers is important and I know that Dr. Battaglia would appreciate any feedback as well. Let me know what they think and I will pass on your remarks to him.

Generally, we delete all email that we do not recognize in order to avoid the virus. To avoid a deletion of your emails, place the word "ARTICLE" in the subject line.

If you would like to be added to the Editors list for new articles or Dr. Battaglia's free breeders newsletter please subscribe here

We continue to add new articles for breeders on our site that we support for the breeders program.

You might also think about linking to our site which would benefit your readers.

Thanks for your interest,

Mark Elliott
